Redefining the standard in Office Seating

Today's workplaces are dynamic – flexible schedules, agile spaces, and collaborative environments have become the norm. The way your office is designed not only shapes perceptions of your organisation but also directly influences how engaged and productive your people feel.

With employees constantly moving between workstations, training zones, meeting rooms and focused work areas, every seat matters. Each chair should deliver comfort, complement the space, and align with its purpose.

Interio's RELAX range brings exactly that. With its contemporary design and versatile functionality, RELAX offers a refined seating solution for visitor areas, conferences, training sessions and more-wherever comfort meets productivity.

Bring a Relax-ed edge to your workspace

In today's work culture, collaboration and innovation thrive in environments that inspire. The right atmosphere not only attracts talent but also helps retain it. With its easy stance and generously proportioned seat, the RELAX range adds comfort and character to every space.

Designed for all sizes

Rounded, full-length arms with deep and broad seat offer relaxed body support for people of all stature.

Stackable

The 4 legged and the Sledge-base chairs are stackable, making these the ideal fit for compact and multipurpose spaces. You can safely stack up to 4 units.

Breathability

The Mesh back allows breathability and facilitates greater comfort.

Multipurpose

Relax range comes with under-structure and accessory options that make these chairs perfect for multipurpose spaces in your office. Further, these contemporary chairs can be easily moved from one space to the other – making them a great fit for growing, agile organisations.
