Social Office — Rethinking Furniture for the Way We Really Work

Today's office is more than a place to work — it's a space that must evolve with how work itself changes. Designed around emerging workplace behaviours, Interio's Social Office furniture range is a response to this shift. The collection includes lounge seating and tables that support collaboration, focus, and connection through ergonomic, sustainable furniture designed for both formal and informal settings. A range that helps teams feel at ease at work, stay productive, and work in ways that feel natural.

Because when people feel supported, everything flows better.

Our research shows that employees now prioritise choice, adaptability, and spaces that support both focus and collaboration. Social Office is designed around these evolving expectations, offering furniture that fits well in five key workplace contexts:

Private Sanctum

Focused solo workspaces that offer privacy, minimal distractions, and a sense of personal ownership.

Page 10

Agora

Collaborative zones near work areas for quick chats, brainstorming, and informal huddles, without breaking workflow.

Page 14

Project Playgrounds

Flexible spaces for cross-functional teams to brainstorm, plan, and execute projects, across all stages of work.
